Are you currently unemployed and looking for a job or are you dissatisfied with your current position and your job search strategy is failing? Currently the unemployment rate in the U.S. is at an all time high and the job search methods of the past are now outdated and proving to be ineffective. In today's competitive job market, without a professional resume and an effective job search strategy, your search could last longer than expected. The Guerilla Job Search is a new state of the art, aggressive and highly effective job seeking strategy designed to break through the barriers of today's competitive job market. The Guerilla Job Search offers strategies including salary negotiations, the art of resume development, job Creation strategies, successful interviewing, bypassing the Gatekeeper, breaking through the HR barriers to get to the decision makers and Hire-centric targeting strategies.

The Guerilla Job search was created and designed by Ron Williams M.S., Professor of Marketing and his son Scott Williams MBA, Professor of Human Resource Management. Ron Williams holds a Master of Science in Policy Analysis and currently teaches various business classes at both the graduate and undergraduate level and has over 30 years professional business experience in both the Banking and Construction industries. Ron is a self marketing expert and has developed hundreds of job-winning resumes and designed formats around key industry positions as the Resume Warrior. You can learn more about the Resume Warrior by visiting his website at www.TheResumeWarrior.com.

Scott Williams holds an MBA in Human Resource Management and currently teaches various Human Resource and Business Management Courses. Scott has a successful and professional track record in Business Development, Marketing, Account Management, Project management and Operations Management in the commercial Engineering/construction and Staffing industries. Scott has mastered the art of "Job Creation," is a networking expert and contributes most of his success and major accomplishments in the Staffing industry to his Utilization of the Guerilla Job Search strategy.

Today's competitive job market is a jungle where only the strong survive. One would not venture into the jungle without properly arming themselves thus one should not venture into the job search without arming themselves for the new competitive warfare that leaves the unprotected unemployed. Arm yourself with the Guerilla Job Search, after all, "when it comes to the job search, there are no rules."
